

JIM DOYLE
GOVERNOR
STATE OF WISCONSIN

November 19, 2009

Greetings!

Welcome to the Wisconsin Youth Entrepreneurs Conference.

As Governor, I am pleased that you are interested in continuing Wisconsin's proud history of innovation and entrepreneurship. For Wisconsin to succeed in the future, we need hard working young people to use their talent and creativity to create the businesses of tomorrow.

In addition to the Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Network, the state provides extensive resources for small businesses to start-up and grow. From experienced business counselors to grants and electronic networking, there is a broad support network available for businesses. And there are Investors and Entrepreneurs (I & E) clubs across the state where entrepreneurs share their business ideas and brainstorm new ones.

Wisconsin provides many resources to grow businesses, but the most important resource is our people. I encourage you to use this great opportunity to gain the tools you need to grow the ideas and businesses of tomorrow.

Best wishes for a great conference!

Sincerely,
